The present exposure shows some twenty feet of ore-bearing clays. The deposit is being worked by open cut, and in it a considerable face of lump ore is exposed. But the bank will probably not average more than one-third lump ore. A sample, one hundred and twenty-six pieces, was selected from pile at mouth of drift to represent the lump ore. It yields: Metallic Iron, 42. 200 Metallic manganese, 3. 825 Phosphorus, 108 Silicious matter, 19. 830 Phosphorus in 100 parts iron, 255 Houston mines. Near Houston station, on the line of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad, the Crozer Steel...
