We should be able to find the most realistic and attainable path that averts negative impacts on our economy and strengthens our national security by decreas-ing our thirst for imported fossil fuels from the most volatile areas of the globe. I believe we can find the right course at the right cost. The U. S. comprises only four percent of the worlds population yet emits 20 per-cent of the worlds carbon dioxide, its time our response to this crisis become pro-portional to our nations contribution to the problem. Because of the lack of any movement on the part of the United States, two years ago, I accepted the co-chair-manship of the International Climate Change Taskforce, or ICCT, which consists of a group of respected scientists, business leaders, and elected officials from eight in-dustrialized and developing nations.
